

Earth Club Meeting Notes for February 19, 2010

1. Natalie is our Earth Club intern! Also, she is planning to approach SUUSA about funding our Movie Night. She is also going to work with Jamie to get Earth Club back in good club standing.
2. Women's Week Activity planning, since it kicks off on March 8. We're going to make a few posters celebrating women who have had significant environmental impact. So far, we've thought of Ladybird Johnson. Think of other women, including more current figures, who have made a difference and bring information about them (picture, bio, etc.) that we can put on posters at next Friday's meeting. We also want to consult the master schedule for Women's Week to see if one of the panels would work well for Dr. Laura Cotts to be on since she is very knowledgeable about conservation, recycling, pollution, etc.
3. Now that it is over, if you see promotional Dancing with the Stars paper stars hanging from trees, railings, bushes, etc. around campus, please take them down.
4. Rob Myers is the Outdoor Recreation Coordinator. We added his email to our email list, so the good people at the Outdoor Recreation Center will be aware of Earth Club's activities.
