

SPRING 2009

FROM: Mark Colberg, Director
Department of Geology
Southern Utah University
Cedar City, UT 84720

TO: All Enrollees in Summer Geology Field Programs

Just a note concerning a few items you will need to bring for this summer's course work:

- colored pencils (12 or more)
- simple calculator
- 10 foot roll-up pocket tape (hardware store)
- Camelback® (or some such item) or a canteen, large (many days you will consume a gallon or more of water)
- day pack
- sun screen
- sturdy hiking shoes and appropriate clothing
- hammer (and chisels?)
- hand lens
- camera (optional)
- acid bottle
- personal first-aid kit

We will supply for you to use during the field courses:

- Brunton Compass
- 6 in scale/protractor (you will keep)
- maps
- aerial photos
- pocket stereo viewer
- metal clipboard
- hard hat
- safety goggles
- Jacob Staff
- 100 ft tapes (as needed)
- Field Note Book (you will keep)
- simple drafting equipment
- Procedures in Field Geology, 1992, Tom Freeman (you will keep)
- Mylar- matté, 8.5 X 11 (as needed for exercises)

If you are into mountain biking, you may want to bring, or ship, your mountain bike. There are lots of excellent mountain biking trails around here. You may consider some camping gear for your free weekends (you will be free from 5:00 PM Friday until 7:30 AM Monday).

You will need to arrive the day before your course begins so you are ready to start work at 7:30 AM the first day of the course.

Daily departure site for the course:

Both Field Methods and Field Camp will leave each morning (first day 7:30 AM) from the Parking Lot on the east side of Eccles Housing facility (where most of you will be staying).

If you are flying, the only air service into Cedar City is via Sky West airlines from Salt Lake City or Las Vegas. You will need to let me know your arrival time and day so I can meet you at the airport.

Cedar City has a bus service. For more information go to: http://cedarcity.org/city_government/cats.html
