BRAITHWAITE LIBERAL ARTS CENTER

History

The Braithwaite Liberal Arts Center was first used as a Science Building during the 1904-05 school year and has been used for many different purposes since then. It was the second building built for the school. The building was most recently remodeled in the summer of 2003 for seismic stability.

Fun Facts

- The field sitting in front of the Braithwaite center used to be the old football field. Now students love to play Ultimate Frisbee as well as other games on this field.
- The English Department often goes to London to do research and to study abroad.

Inside the Braithwaite Liberal Arts Center

- The English Department
- The Literature Department
- Braithwaite Fine Arts Gallery, which showcases not only SUU student's artwork, but also artists from around the globe. This gallery is located in the basement, and is open M-F 12 p.m. - 7 p.m.
- The Artichoke lounge is where students showcase their artwork, hold poetry readings, and express themselves in creative ways. It was started and is maintained by SUU students. It is also just a fun place to socialize.
- A writing lab, which provides computers and tutor assistance for students. The lab is open M-F, 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. To make an appointment with a writing tutor, just walk in and sign-up. English 1010 and 2010 students have first priority, but the writing center accommodates all students and their needs.

The English Department sponsors:

- The English Department's Honor Society, and Sigma Tau Delta.

Experiences with this building or departments I will use to Personalize My Tour.
