

At the Center of Excellence for Teaching and Learning, we recommend the following resources to help SUU faculty prepare for remote instruction this summer. Not only are they full of great information, they give examples of specific strategies you can use to best support your students through this challenging time. And don't forget, the CETL and the Office of Online Teaching and Learning are here to help in any way we can. Best of luck this summer - you are going to do great!
