The “T” grade or temporary grade was discussed and the rationale of this grade being used, no decisions were made on this grade. A vote was taken so the policy could be passed along to the Dean’s. Motion made John Howell, seconded Fred Govedich. Voting was unanimous to make approve the changes recommended by the committee.

Policy 6.12 Financial Exigency

Deb Hill led a discussion on the proposed changes of the Financial Exigency policy. There were several changes to the existing policy, (please see attachment policy # 6.12). John Howell explained the rationale for the changes to certain aspects of the policy. The basis of the change was to clarify and outline the steps of faculty who could be considered to be released in a financial exigency situation. The exceptions of those who would not be laid off were clarified and the wording of the policy discussed. Tenured faculty headed the list of those who would not be laid off due to financial crisis. The policy now uses the words, “In-case of tie-breakers.” The major concerns with the senate was centered around the wording, several words were changed to reflect the policies meaning. The discussion led by several individuals went on to express concern with the growth of the university and carrying out the policy on a university level or whether it should be on a college level. The consensus was to leave the policy as it is with the faculty senate (Page 11 of policy 6.12). Voting on the proposed changes to policy 6.12 was voted on and approved by the senate. Retention of non-tenured faculty when tenured faculty are laid off policy was discussed, and it was decided to leave it as is. Voting was taken and all were in favor of the changes.

Denise Woodbury discussed the selection of the award while she was the president and how it was handled. Each Dean was to nominate one individual from their college (4 Dean’s made nominations) information was then analyzed and Gerry Calvasina was the award winner for 2009.
