Calling all SUU students to submit their Monarch Butterfly-inspired artwork for a chance to showcase your piece in a juried exhibition at SUMA. Monarch Butterflies are believed to be the spirits of the deceased who migrate to Mexico around the Day of the Dead. Each year, millions of monarch butterflies return to the mountains of central Mexico. This migration is traditionally considered to represent the souls of the departed ancestors returning to earth for their annual visit.

Prizes will be awarded to top pieces.

Entries must be ready to hang.
