

FIVE FINGER RULE

First, choose a book and open it to any page.

Second, begin reading.

Third, hold up a finger for every time you don't know a word you read.

If you are holding up 1 finger (or no fingers!) by the time you finish reading the page, this book may be too easy. Sometimes it's nice to read an "easy" book though, so read it and enjoy!

If you are holding up 2, 3, or 4 fingers by the end of the page, this book is probably perfect to help you grow as a reader.

If you hold up 5 fingers before finishing the page, you may want to wait to read this book or have someone read the book with you!
