Laura Dahl
of Zion Adventure Company

Laura has been working at Zion Adventure Company for the last 7 years. During her employment she has worn many hats. Currently she spends the majority of her work directing the Guide Program at ZAC, which includes hiring & training new guides, product development, risk management and other continued guide development. Lastly, she is part of the small group of decision makers who direct the future of ZAC.

Before coming to ZAC, she worked at a variety of outdoor adventure camps and a climbing gym on the east coast. She has my bachelors degree in Adventure Education.
