Commit to the conversation | Be infected by the positivity of communal growth

Join us for the 2nd annual Statera National Conference in Denver, CO from October 14 - 16, 2016, at the Denver Center for the Performing Arts (DCPA). Meet with theatre professionals from all over the country for three days of networking, socializing, experience-sharing, theatre-going and more. The Statera conference is all about gender balance and our goal is to take action to bring women into full and equal participation in the American theatre.

Among the over 50 speakers and workshop leaders presenting on gender balance in the theatre are Executive Director of Actor's Equity Association, Mary McColl offering a Touchstone Address; American social justice activist, Chris Crass leading special training sessions; and American Conservatory Theater Artistic Director, Carey Perloff and Wellesley Centers for Women Senior Scholar and Research Scientist, Sumru Erkut sharing results of their recent study on women in leadership in the theatre.

Registration includes access to all Statera National Conference sessions, continental breakfasts, and social mixers, with additional rates for a Mentorship Brown Bag Lunch and Writing With Wine Fundraiser benefiting The Athena Project in Denver.

About Statera Foundation

Statera Foundation was co-founded by Melinda Vaughn and Shelly Gaza in 2014. Deriving its name from the Latin word for balance, Statera Foundation endeavors to serve women in theatre by expanding employment options, improving salary and removing barriers to growth and achievement through mentorship, internship, research, outreach, networking and support to empower them to reach their full potential by bridging the gap between passion, preparation and opportunity.
