

Leadership Conference

Russ Christensen

Leadership Engagement Center

2013/Spring Semester

EDGE PROJECT

Project Summary

As Part of the project I was on a committee in the Leadership Engagement Center where we planned out all the logistics of the leadership conference, such as the date of the conference, our speakers, agenda, expenses, etc.

We then put everything together, put on the conference, and I conducted, coordinated and made sure things ran smoothly.

Project Highlights

The Project has some great moments for me:

- Met our key speaker for the conference Mike Schlappi, three time gold medalist in the Paralympics.
- Learned the important role of always being optimistic and happy during tough times as a leader.

The Project itself has taught me to tough things out when it gets tough, that I need to be positive and do my best.

From My Journal

“As I was listening to Mike Schlappi speak, a thought came to my mind: ‘To be a good leader, I need to do the hard stuff that no one wants to do, and to do it with a good attitude.’ It’s a lesson that I won’t forget.”

This is me preparing the packets for the Leadership conference. The packets included a detailed schedule of the conference, some snacks, and a lottery ticket for a prize at the end of the conference.

Here with Mike Schlappi, 3 time gold medalist in basketball in the Paralympics. I’m on the right, and Shea Esplin, other coordinator of the conference is on the left.

